Don't Wait Until It's Too Late
When I was a little boy growing up in Huntsville, the neighborhood kids and I would meet just about every day after school and trek up in the woods behind our houses. We would hike up to climb the big rocks, swing from trees, play in the streams and even peek into the caves. This must have been what led to my current appreciation for our lands. I am now married with three children and fortunate enough to back up to land similar to where I grew up - land that is owned and protected by Land Trust of North Alabama. From time to time, we go on hikes and it’s fun to explore nature. But what I love the most is going out for a jog on the trails. It still amazes me how close I am to the trails from my downtown Huntsville office. In a matter of minutes, I can be on the trails and it seems like I am in the middle of nowhere. With so many nature preserves and trails across North Alabama, there is always new land to explore.

So, on behalf of my family, the entire board, and great staff, I would like to thank all of our members, volunteers, partners and donors in helping Land Trust of North Alabama continue to preserve and protect the beautiful land in our region. Without your generosity our mission could not be carried on. It has been my honor to serve and to be a part of its continued success.

Chuck Jones · 2018 Board Chairman

Trailhead Closure

Our main trailhead for Blevins Gap Nature Preserve will be closed due to road work on Cecil Ashburn until around May 2020. However, there are additional access points for this preserve. Find a full list of trailheads and information about related trail closures at landtrustnal.org/blevins-gap-preserve.
Critical Connections from River to Gap

Envision a permanently preserved corridor of life, a natural place where connections are made and our unique sense of place is displayed. Envision a place that binds us together with trails and provides a migration corridor and habitat for wildlife to safely travel and flourish. Connecting the Tennessee River to Blevins Gap across Green Mountain would provide such a place. It would connect the life-giving waters of the river to our mountain top vistas. It would skirt rocky outcroppings that shelter some of our tiniest creatures. It would lead you through groves of wild azaleas, trillium, and phlox that punctuate the new green of spring. It would be a place of respite.

Natural spaces on Green Mountain are disappearing quickly, as we experience the tremendous pressure of growth. That’s why we've identified this corridor as a critical area for conservation. It would provide an important connection for the Greenway Master Plan and preserve a route for wildlife to safely live and travel. In 2018, thanks to generous donors, we were able to acquire a 52-acre piece of this puzzle.

Now, the next key parcel (27 acres) is available and we have to act fast before it’s gone. Can you help? Pledge your support today! Make a donation at landtrustnal.org/river-to-gap
Saving Diverse Lands Throughout our Community

Last year, your support preserved a total of 503 acres of natural lands in North Alabama. A substantial portion of that total acreage came in the form of a significant land donation to close out 2018. In December, Belle Mina Farms donated 304 acres of their property to the Land Trust with the goal of ensuring its beauty and ecological value are protected from pressing development. Located just west of the new Mazda-Toyota Manufacturing plant site, the property includes 3 miles of the Limestone Creek corridor as well as over 100 acres of farmland. A key link in the Conservation Vision/Plan of the Land Trust, this acquisition conserves a vital riparian corridor, protecting water quality and safeguarding the ecosystem. Long term, this portion of Limestone Creek is also identified for a greenway in the City of Huntsville Greenway Master Plan.

The remaining 199 acres acquired last year include:

Green Mountain
An exciting and strategic acquisition of 52 acres on Green Mountain was finalized last year as part of our River to Gap initiative. When this property on the west side of the mountain became available to purchase, the Land Trust had to act fast to raise the funds needed. The City of Huntsville contributed half of the purchase price and the remaining total was contributed by individual donors who felt this land was critical to the future of Green Mountain. While ensuring that another pristine piece of the mountain remains undeveloped, this property is also an important part of the city's greenway master plan. With a few more key pieces in place, we’ll be able to provide residents and wildlife a continuous corridor stretching from Blevins Gap all the way to Ditto Landing.
Bell Mountain
Located on Bell Mountain in Huntsville, a little over 27 acres were donated by George and Lonetta Dawson. This upland hardwood tract adjoins an existing Land Trust property, bringing the total acres preserved on Bell Mountain to 78. (Photo #1)

Keel Mountain
Near the Madison/Jackson County line on the far southern end of Keel Mountain is a 40-acre property, recently donated by Bob and June Terry. This newly acquired tract is the third preserved on Keel Mountain by the Land Trust. Keel Mountain, with its rich and diverse ecosystem, is another critical link in the Land Trust’s Conservation Vision. (Photo #2)

Drake Mountain
Located west of Hampton Cove, a new 20-acre donation marks our first foothold on Drake Mountain. The property’s forest habitat supports a variety of mammals, amphibians, reptiles and birds. As the Land Trust continues to expand our footprint throughout the community, this is a strategic acquisition from which to build.

Athens West
A little different from the other acquisitions, this 60-acre property, located west of Athens in Limestone County, was donated as a conservation easement. This means that the land will remain with the current owner, but use and future development will be restricted and monitored by the Land Trust. The property has historically been utilized for agriculture and hunting. With the execution of the easement, the conservation values of the land will be preserved forever. (Photo #3)

Training Future Foresters
Land Trust of North Alabama recently partnered with Alabama A&M University not only to create additional trail access on the Chapman Mountain Nature Preserve, but also to provide an environmental education laboratory for A&M Forestry Students. Forestry students are working with the Land Trust to create management plans for Land Trust and Alabama A&M lands on Chapman Mountain. The students will garner valuable experience by evaluating property needs, uses, and long-term strategies, including environmental and recreational management.

"This unique real-world laboratory and partnership will help better position these students for productive careers in forestry and environmental management fields" said Alabama A&M Professor Troy Bowman.
Taking Care of a Much Loved Trail

At the end of 2018, the National Environmental Education Foundation (NEEF) awarded Land Trust of North Alabama a $20,000 Restoration and Resilience Grant, with major funding support from Toyota Motor North America. The grant will support the needed restoration of Bluffline Trail on Monte Sano Nature Preserve and serve as a study in sustainable trail building practices that can be utilized to improve trail systems across our region.

The goal of the Bluffline restoration will be to return this vital corridor to a more functional condition, allowing users to once again easily access the larger trail system on the Monte Sano Nature Preserve. Throughout this project, the Land Trust of North Alabama plans to utilize sustainable trail building methods to ensure environmental changes and heavy use will not continue to have a negative impact on trail conditions. These best practices will make it easier for volunteers and Land Trust staff to manage future maintenance.

Building an Accessible Trail at our Next Public Preserve

A $22,000 grant from the Alpha Foundation will help fund the creation of an accessible loop trail at our next public preserve - Bethel Spring Nature Preserve. This accessible loop will follow Bethel Creek through a working farm and provide access to natural areas for visitors with physical challenges.

In addition to existing accessible trails at Harvest Square Nature Preserve, we are making efforts to provide more opportunities for ALL people to access the benefits offered by nature. Before climbing the southern slopes of Keel Mountain, Bethel Spring Nature Preserve (located in New Hope) features an area of level terrain that will provide the perfect landscape needed to create this type of trail.

“We feel that it’s important for everyone to be able to enjoy nature and experience all that it has to offer. We’re working to remove any barriers that make it more challenging for some.” says Marie Bostick, Executive Director.
Grant funding provided by Laughlin Service Funeral Home and Crematory will support our 2019 environmental education programs!

Adventures in Environmental Education

During our 2018 Fall Hike & Adventure Series, we were excited to offer more adult education opportunities. The series explored a wide range of outdoor learning adventures. Participants learned about subjects such as geology at Rainbow Mountain, archeology at Chapman Mountain, and botany on Devil’s Race Track (Wade Mountain). Hikers spent an evening mothing with entomologists and identifying the many species of Lepidoptera (an order of insects that includes butterflies and moths) on Monte Sano Nature Preserve. Another highlight was stargazing at Roy B. Whitaker Nature Preserve with the astronomers of the Von Braun Astronomical Society who brought some impressive scopes for us to experience especially far off planets and stars. Of course, none of these programs would have been possible without the support of field experts who graciously volunteer their skills and time to educate the North Alabama community about the area in which we live and play.

Join us this spring hike season for new opportunities to learn about the land you’ve preserved.

Don't Wait Until It's Too Late
by Phill Gibson

My parents moved up to Green Mountain after Pop finished college at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute (now Auburn University). While raising us six kids, they literally cleared our land on Green Mountain and built the houses and other structures you see there today and kept a small farm going.

We are all grown now with families of our own. Pop and Moma are in their 90s, and we wanted to show our love and respect for them and also find a way to tell people just a hint of the history and memories that took place so close to that trail for so long. An honorary bench was perfect. It would tie in with how much Pop, Mama, and the land up on Green Mountain has meant to us.

My parents were totally not expecting such a gesture from their children!

They put up a photo of the bench, along with a close-up of the wording, on the refrigerator, which tells me that it is indeed an honor to them, just as it was meant to be. Honoring our parents with the bench was so meaningful for us kids and for my parents. I would encourage others to do the same. And unless you specifically want a memorial, don't wait until it's too late!

Because of You

None of what we do would be possible without our committed and passionate volunteers. 2018 saw over 2,800 volunteer hours given to the Land Trust to preserve land, build trails, and educate the community. Because of their support, we were able to host 59 trail care events, 14 team builds, 29 educational events, 4 fundraisers, and complete countless administrative tasks. We are also lucky enough to have volunteers who love to get out on the trail on their own! Our 12 Trail Care Partners adopted and managed over 15 miles of trails. We only succeed in our mission because of the dedication of our volunteers. Thank you to our volunteers who are working so hard to preserve land in North Alabama.
